

FOREST ECOSYSTEM SERVICES IN OCEANIA Pre-Conference Workshop

Theme: Implementation of forest ecosystem services in policy and decision making in Oceania

PROGRAMME
Welcome, overview and international perspectives (Chair: Dr Anita Wreford)
8:00	Welcome and Scion's vision for forest ecosystem services research	Dr Anita Wreford, Scion & Lincoln University and Dr Richard Yao, Scion
8:15	Can the application of the ecosystem services concept generate improved societal outcomes from natural resource management?	Professor Rodney Keenan, University of Melbourne
9:00	Forest restoration and rehabilitation and their contributions to improving ecological and community resilience	Professor David Lamb, University of Queensland
9:15	Overview of 'forests' and town & country planning systems: The Fijian perspective	Asenaca Nawaqalevu, University of the South Pacific
9:30	Social license to operate and sustainable businesses and their contributions to community resilience	Dr Peter Edwards, Scion & Victoria University of Wellington
9:45	FES implementation in New Zealand: government and industry initiatives	Dr Richard Yao, Scion
10:00	Panel discussion (all presenters above)	Dr Anita Wreford, Scion & Lincoln University
10:30	Morning tea
Workshop on how to sustain and enhance FES provision in Oceania
10:45	Workshop questions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- How forest ecosystem services have been recognized in policy and practice in Oceania?</li> <li>- What has been the impact of this recognition on community resilience? Why?</li> <li>- What related actions would you undertake after this workshop?</li> </ul>	Moderator: Sandra J. Velarde, Scion
11:30	Reporting of workshop results and future directions	Moderator: Sandra J. Velarde, Scion
11:50	Synthesis and closing	Dr Anita Wreford, Scion
12:00	Finish

Workshop outcome: Improved understanding of options for forest ecosystem services implementation and their contributions to community resilience in Oceania.

Workshop outputs: (1) A review paper for submission to a journal; and (2) A reference group on forest ecosystem services in Oceania.